

I pay a monthly service fee for my XM radio, and have paid for the traffic and weather. The government should stay out of this. If the NAB has insecurity issues, then they are the one with the problem, and they aren't taking the right approach to the whole problem. I think they are a bunch of cry babies that are going to lose a large percentage of listeners because of the FCC and government controls.